

The GFE calculator you need is here.

GFExpressQuote™

As you know, on January 1 the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (RESPA) reform went into effect, requiring lenders to provide residential customers with a new form of Good Faith Estimate. And, since title fees fall within a tolerance level group that cannot change more than 10% in aggregate, it is crucial that the estimates you receive from your title company are accurate.

Now we can provide exactly what you need with our new online calculator, GFExpressQuote. It helps you quickly get reliable electronic quotes in an easily downloaded or emailed GFE format for:

- Title service fees
- Title premiums
- Recording fees
- Transfer taxes

Features of the GFExpressQuote include:

- 24/7 availability
- Built-in geographical intelligence to allow for unique state requirements, such as transfer taxes
- Access to repository for all quotes generated within a one-year time period
- Downloadable quotes available on the spot
- Visual representation that shows you exactly where the pricing is placed in your 2010 Good Faith Estimate
